

'Lil Gideon:

The pudgy, guitar-strumming child psychic whose visions have put him on public television & radio, 'Lil Gideon Garrymore is hands down the most famous & respected member of the Gravity Falls community. At his tent of telepathy, he claims to be able to read minds, predict the future, and talk to the dead. In reality, his only "powers" are charisma and a lethal amount of hair gel. A brilliant businessman, Gideon's #1 goal is to destroy the Mystery Shack (his tourism competition) and turn the whole town into Garrymore-Land. Despite these lofty plans, Gideon fights dirty- he can often be found putting sugar in Stan's gas tank, painting over his road signs, and generally petitioning town hall to have the Mystery Shack bulldozed, pretending that his psychic powers have alerted him to its "sinister effects on the town." Dipper is constantly fighting back by debunking and disproving Gideon's demonstrations of power, and there is a constant one-ups-manship to the two.
